His second solo record, after four years of uninterrupted work. It is art in a pure state and flamenco essence from the guitarist who accompanied Camarón in the final part of his career. As he already did in Tomatito's first album, the genius from the island takes part, singing the tangos entitled La voz del tiempo. Other artists who accompanied him in his first solo work also reappear in this recording: Antonio Carmona, Juan Carmona and Carles Benavent.
